EXPERIENCE

BUNDY, & ASSOCIATES, INC., 1988-Present

BUNDY, GALE & SHIELDS, LLC.-1996-Present

Fire expert conducting fire scene examinations and fire consultations:

Fires and Explosions: Major casework involves fire origin and cause determination in all types of commercial and residential buildings, including those involving fires with hazardous materials, commercial ships, heavy equipment, vehicles, wildland fires, motor homes, commercial plants, commercial grain elevator explosions, public buildings, fertilizer processing plants, high-rise office and residential buildings, factories, aluminum plants, cabinet shops and fatal fires.

Fire Consultation: Providing expert opinions and assistance on existing fire litigation, including witness interviews, report review, photograph analysis, evidence examination, pre-deposition and pre-trial preparations of attorneys and file management.

Fire Testing: Conducts fire testing for small and large scale projects. Specializes in reconstructing fire scenes to the standard of substantial similarity to provide the client with the opportunity to test various theories consistent with the actual fire site. This includes reconstructing buildings or portions of buildings, airplanes, ships/boats or other structures and wildland fuels. Testing is also conducted on appliances of all types. Rate of heat release and other temperature data is collected during this testing to provide the basis for computer fire modeling.

RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

Mr. Bundy has conducted research involving the setting of more than 500 test fires. These fires included fires involving different appliance failures, various types of flammable liquids under numerous conditions, chemical fires, explosions, fires involving fireworks, fires involving homicide with human blood splatter, slow smoldering fires, spontaneous ignition fires, cigarette fires in furniture/buildings/cars, fire sets involving man-made or mechanical/electrical delay devices, flammable liquids on concrete, electrical ignition fires, fires set with molotov cocktails, exterior fire sets, wildland fire ignitions and other fire sets involving different motives.

Mr. Bundy has conducted extensive laboratory testing with computer data acquisition, involving propane tanks, propane barbecues and associated propane components.

Mr. Bundy has conducted extensive laboratory testing with computer data acquisition involving the ignition and propagation of flammable and combustible liquid vapors.

Mr. Bundy has conducted extensive laboratory testing with computer data acquisition, involving polyurethane foams and polystyrene, including E-906 (Standard ASTM Test) for rate of heat release and smoke generation, intermediate scale radiant panel (ICAL) testing, and full scale fire testing.

Mr. Bundy has conducted extensive laboratory testing of Expanded Polystyrene (EPS) in bench tests and full scale fire testing. In addition, he has conducted extensive laboratory testing with various brands and types of self regulating heating cable in bench tests and full scale fire tests.

CURRICULUM VITAE

Dean N. Bundy
